

JVC Network Video Recorder

JVC's VR-N900U network video recorder has a simple, robust and effective design including front panel controls that security operators will find easy to use. The NVR works with both analogue and IP cameras and it's ready to use straight from the box, with no additional software and network servers being required.

Watch JVC Professional's video to discover how the VR-N900U 9 Channel Hybrid Video Recorder works.

For more information about the VR-N900U, click here.